Aristaloy

FOR ALL TYPES OF CAVITIES

Aristaloy still contains the very small but very beneficial zinc content of 0.4%. Alloys with no zinc tend to be brittle and break up into fine dust particles during trituration leading to uncontrolled expansion and contraction, undesirable flow properties and less tensile strength.

Aristaloy is manufactured by an entirely different process than any other alloy. The deliberately selected size and shaped particles change very little in trituration and pack into extremely dense fillings.

These facts have been proven by thousands of dentists who have inserted millions of bright, non-leaking Aristaloy fillings and by leading research workers over the past 25 years.
